

A call from a journalist is a wonderful opportunity to get your organisation's message out to the public. Making the most of that opportunity means doing your homework and preparing properly.

HELP! There's a reporter on the phone!

How to make the most of media opportunities

